

field notes august 23

4:15 pm sunny. 29 degrees. light wind

can hear cicadas.

squirrel spotted running from tall grass to creek trees

contents of garbage are different. bag has been changed construction continues.

vine seed pics are maturing. need to perform count next week.

vine is most visible in areas along the creek trees with shrubs and other vines along the slope it grows in patches. no pattern stands out vine does not appear to be present in manicured grass took photos of several plant species located on the slope and treed area for future identification.